OFF TO PARIS is one of our popular young ladies--SHARON ELIZABETH BROWN, age 11. SHARON, who will attend Marymount Convent outside the French capitol, is the daughter of BILL BROWN, of Robert Kirk Ltd. and eligible man-about-town. .....CYRUS AND ELIZABETH JOHNSON have left Carmel far the big city of San Francisco where CY has become associated with the well known New York Stock Exchange House of HARRIS-UPHAM & CO.-----Announcement was recently made that ARTIE MEJIA, former partner in Davies & Mejia, had become Northern Califarnia Partner of Harris Upham & Co.....HERB & OLLIE BROOK of Los Laureles Lodge are THINKING of taking a group of twenty or so people to EUROPE this winter when the Lodge closes. They have a home of their own on the ISLE OF CAPRI and of course know their native Europe like a book..... ADMIRAL & MRS. C. D. EDGAR entertained Sunday at their Hatton Fields home for ALICE WHITE, a long time friend and manager of the FRANCESCA CLUB in S.F.....

RALPH (DR.) WESTON, his brother, and ROCKY BOWERSOX have been exploring the CAVES below Rocky Point Lodge, down the coast. Went down about a hundred feet to get into the caves that are accessible only twice a year when the tide is at its lowest. They took with them a rubber boat and camera equipment, RALPH being quite an amateur photog. Pictures disappointing because FIVE FLASH bulbs at once only showed up silhouettes. Found they did not need rubber boat and they are going back again with more powerful flash equipment. They may find some TREASURE, No Kidding ..... HELEN TRENT--not the one whose LIFE you hear on the Radio but an attractive one, withal--has decided to make Carmel her home. With a little income, a six year old daughter, and a mother, comes up the question of what to do for interest and a living. How many hundreds of Carmelites have come here with the same idea! HELEN has a notion she would like to be a part time SECRETARY for some of the ACTIVE RETIRED in Carmel and Pebble Beach. She is pretty good at bookkeeping, income tax (if it's not too complicated), takes dictation well, and wouldn't get in anyone's hair. Sounds like a pretty good idea, HELEN, Good Luck.....DOG DAYS are here-----Ushered in with the tour of the GUIDE DOGS for the BLIND on Wednesday, when hundreds took advantage of the opportunity to visit some outstanding Valley Homes, among them the RUSSELL RANCH. Those who had lunch at the CARMEL VALLEY COUNTRY CLUB also had the oppartunity of seeing a wonderful Begonia display by the C. V. BEGONIA GARDENS Enjoyable and well attended luncheons were also served at LOS LAURELES LODGE and RANCHO DEL MONTE COUNTRY CLUB----Other DOG NEWS has to do with the new PEKINESE CLUB being organized on the Peninsula. Its purpose is to bring to the attention of BREEDERS, OWNERS and POTENTIAL OWNERS the conformation desired in the Peke breed. PUBLIC INVITED TO FULL DIVISION REVIEW AT FORT ORD TOMORROW

Four of the nation's highest awards for military personnel and civilians will be presented tomorrow, Saturday, during the first full division review at Fort Ord in more than a year.

Approximately 6,000 men will participate in the colorful ceremonies beginning at 10:30 a.m. on the post's South Parade Ground.

Maj. Gen. Robert B. Mc Clure, Sixth Infantry Division commander who will be the parade's reviewing officer, has invited the public to attend the event. It also will serve as the opening of Monterey's traditional festival of Santa Rosalia.

Military decorations to be presented are the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Service Medal. Civilian awards are the Medal of Freedom and a Commendation for Meritorious Service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Baldonado, Gilroy, will receive a posthumous award of the DSC for their son Cpl. Joe R. Baldonado, killed while serving with the 187th Airborne Infantry Regiment in Korea last November 25.

Brig. Gen. Vennard B. Wilson, assistant commander of the Sixth Division, will receive an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Service Medal. The medal was awarded for the general's "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" while serving as assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Korea between July and December, 1950.

The Medal of Freedom--one of the highest noncombat awards presented civilians--will be given Mrs. Peter Kim, Carmel. Mrs. Kim, whose husband is now serving in Korea as an Army lieutenant, was honored for her work in Shanghai, China, from July to November, 1944, during the Japanese occupation of that city.

Mrs. Kim, aided U.S. Army agents "in their accomplishment of a secret and highly hazardous mission," her citation read.

Mrs. Kim made her home a rendezvous for the agents and collected specific items of high level intelligence which proved vital to the agents' mission.

"The heroic actions by Mrs. Kim, and the invaluable assistance rendered in the face of constant personal peril, were material contributions to the Allied Cause," her citation read.

Mr. Ferris Bagley, Carmel, will receive the Army's Commendation for Meritorious Civilian Service for "outstanding performance of duty." The award was made for Mr. Bagley's work as Organization and Methods Examiner at Fort Ord between Feb. 6, 1950 and April 1, 1951.

WORLD AFFAIRS SEMINAR SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Dr. Henry S. Houghtan, chairman of the World Affairs Council seminars, has announced that classes will begin again during September and early October. The following classes have been scheduled:

"China and the Far East," director Henry S. Houghton; "Southeast Asia," Mr. Stanley Pedder; "The Balkans," Mrs. W.W. Angwin; "Scandinavia," Mr. W. Hollyday; "Germany," Mrs. Martin Flavin.

The class conducted by Mr. Earl Akin at the Monterey Peninsula College on "World Affairs," directed to the study of "The Arab World," is also sponsored by the World Affairs Council.

Persons interested in registering in any of these classes may do so by arrangement with the several directors. Classes are limited to 20 students. The time and occasions of meeting are determined in the conference of class members.

Dr. Houghton emphasized the importance of having more "young people" in the classes. It was suggested that if the problem of "baby sitters" were a concern, sitters might be provided in one of the adjoining rooms of the school!

Mr. Harry Sartais, Mr. Earl Akin, Mr. Val Clement, and Miss Elizabeth Niles have been added to the committee on seminars.

It was expected that an additional class on "India" would be arranged under Mr. Val Clement's direction to meet in Pacific Grove.

An appeal for cookies and cakes for Hospitality House was made by Mrs. Murphy, who reported that a hostess is on duty beginning at 11 a.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Or these contributions may be left at the head of the stairs before 11 a.m.

WATER makes the Central Valley the world's most productive area!

The Central Valley produces 60%, or nearly $1,300,000,000 of California's annual farm income. This huge sum flows into channels of trade, creating prosperity throughout the state—in cities, as well as on farms.

Irrigation of Central Valley farm land increases crop values twenty times and is largely responsible for this being the most productive area of its size in the world.

COL. DE CAMP NAMED TO HEAD AMERICAN LEGION COMMITTEE

Committing itself to a program of vitalizing the basic concept of American political philosophy, that of Citizen Sovereignty, the Carmel Post of the American Legion this week chose a committee under the chairmanship of Col. C. A. De Camp to direct this work. Members include Svend Andersen, Frank M. Girard, Jos. J. Johnston, Sr., Alfred Clay Otto and Adm. R. K. Turner.

Col. De Camp pointed out that the techniques of Hitler and now of Stalin in trainnig their youth for Dictatorship posed a basic challenge to the U.S. "Unless we reinstate Citizen Sovereignty as our social working principle as exemplified in the exercise of the franchise, get out and vote, the cancer of political decay will have destroyed us from within less any help from Stalin," he said.

EIGHT to the BAR

By ROSS WORSLEY

"Black Strap Molasses" and "How D'Ye Do and Shake Hands" represent an entirely new venture for a recording company, for never before have four celebrities (Jane Wyman, Danny Kaye, Jimmy Durante, Groucho Marx) been assembled on a single disc. The results have caused dissension among reviewers, yet all of the artists have loyal followers and I believe this eighty-nine center will sell. It should become a collector's item for "pop" fans.

The sequel to "Come-on-a My House," ably delivered by Robert Q. Lewis, entitled "Where's-a Your House," undoubtedly will climb to the near top of the hit-parade. Imagine the frustration of the poor devil who has been offered so many enticements and has lost the address of the "house"!

Cetra-Soria continues to triumph in recording exquisite performances of grand opera. "La Battaglia di Legnano" by Giuseppe Verdi, the story of twelfth century Italy, ending with the defeat of the Austrian army at Legnano, was written in 1848, the year when Italy was united for the first time. Verdi believed it would help restore to the Italian people a sense of dignity as a nation. The first performance took place amid scenes of wildest enthusiasm. After the chorus, "Viva Italia," the audience rose en masse and cheered. The entire fourth act was encored, and you, gentle reader, will certainly react in like manner upon hearing this magnificent opera, replete with melodic phrasee and noble and expressive arias. No fault can be found with any of the gifted artists nor the fine engineering of the recording.

The "Marriage of Figaro" standard in the repertoire of the great opera houses and a perennial favorite among opera goers has been released by Cetra-Soria on three long-playing records. The cast includes Italo Tajo in the name role, Sesto Bruscantini, one of the world's greatest basso-cantantes, Gabrielli Gatti, eight other excellent artists, a fine chorus and the orchestra of Radio Italiano under the direction of Fernando Previtali. Mozart intended "Figaro" to be Italian in feeling, his German operas had but mediocre success and this well chosen group of singers do high justice to Mozart's ravishing score.

The Cetra-Soria operas, beautifully boxed, contain complete librettos including English translations.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S

WHO IS IT?

Though Louise Gribben claims she doesn't remember her age, birthplace, or even being born, we must assume for the sake of this interview that such happened. Set it somewhere after the fin de siecle and the state of Illinois and you'll come close enough.

A Carmel long-timer, for the past ten years, owner of the Country Shop, Louise is one of the pleasantest persons on Hemline Row. With her sister Julie Parkes, she maintains the front (or business end) of this leading women's store with the same good humor with which she presides over the constant large thermos jug of coffee in the rear.

Prior to opening the Country Shop, she entered the local merchants' circle as a partner in the Corner Cupboard following a number of years' experience in the gift shop business. Marshall Fields, Bullock's Los Angeles, and Nathan Dorman in San Francisco for which she was buyer, also preceded Carmel. And for a while she was a traveling saleslady hawking imported giftware up and down the West Coast. (I never did hear any good stories, she adds.) Adding six years in the photographic supply business in Chicago with her husband gives Louise a grand total of much business experience.

When Louise feels like getting away from business, she is likely to take refuge in her kitchen at home. There she shows herself to be equally as expert with truffles as ruffles. Her theory that one should feel beautiful inwardly as well as outwardly has to do with foods rather than philosophy. And though general reading is also one of her favorite forms of escape, her extensive library of cookbooks frankly ranks even over poetry which she also collects. These tests range from her prized Escoffier through cookery of almost any nation down to the cannibal isles. Someday when she retires, she hopes to do little else but collect cookbooks and poetry.

Rather than tell more about herself, Louise offered this recipe for French stew in lieu:

BEEF STEW A LA PROVENCALE

Brown 2 lbs. beef stew meat together with one onion and one small carrot finely cut. Add 3 level tbsp. flour and continue browning. Pour over 1 qt. boiling water and 1 can tomato paste (or 1 fresh tomato). Add 2 mashed garlic beans and a faggot of thyme, 3 bay leaves & parsley. Stir and simmer one hour.

Parboil 6 small carrots and saute in butter. Lay carrots, 12 small white onions and 12 small new potatoes on top and cook one hour more.

Before serving add 2 tbsp. of sherry.

"LENNIE AND GEORGE," John Steinbeck's famous characters from the play "Mice and Men," which will have its first showing in the community where it was written, at the Wharf Theatre in Monterey. In this photo by Marge Cain "George," played by Allen Greif of the Presidio Language School, is forced to shoot his friend "Lennie," played by Bruce Ariss of Monterey. The play opens this weekend and will run three more weekends--through Sunday, Oct. 7.

WHARF THEATRE PRESENTING 'MICE AND MEN'

The first production of Steinbeck's immortal "Of Mice and Men" on the Peninsula opened last night at the Wharf Theatre. This deeply moving drama of the Salinas Valley was written when Steinbeck was living in a cottage in Pacific Grove and was a well-known member of the artists' and writers' group here.

Bruce Ariss, who plays the inimitable part of "Lennie," was a friend of his and in 1935 went to Baja California with him, during which time Steinbeck read Bruce the proofs of the original book which he was checking against the old records in an authentic ledger belonging to John's father, a Monterey official and from which the story was taken. Bruce says that he made one of the worst prognostications of his life when he told John that he did not think the book would "sell." As "Of Mice and Men" has been Steinbeck's most successful book and play both artistically and financially, Bruce, as "Lennie," is indeed going to vindicate this wrong guess by giving his utmost to the portrayal of "Lennie," his favorite role.

George, played by Allen Greif, has the really major role of keeping the play in sympathy with Steinbeck's uncanny insight into migratory workers or those persons seeking for peace and security whether it be in a small farm with chickens or rabbits or whatever plot of ground one desires on the moon or San Fernando Valley.

Ariss, as "Lennie" in the preeent production, now admits his first impressions were wrong to the N'th degree, but it was hearing the book piecemeal that obscured the story's greatest quality and its tremendous dramatic unity.

It is the tragic story of a true friendship between "Lennie" and "George" and the inevitable consequences of "Lennie's" enormous physical power misdirected by a child's mind. It is a tale of the many attempts of his friend "George" to keep the well-meaning but feeble-minded "Lennie" from doing "bad things."

George is played in the Wharf Theatre production by Allen Greif, a student of Czechoslovakian at the Presidio Language School.

'TAMING OF SHREW' TRYOUTS SET FOR THIS SUNDAY

Actors' Theatre will hold open tryouts for their first play this Sunday at the Mission Ranch banquet hall at 2:30 p.m. The Shakespearean comedy, "Taming of the Shrew," will be the first production of this new group's Theatre-in-the Round staging, and all those interested have been invited to come and read for parts.

Staff members and officers of this non-profit corporation include Willard Branson, Edythe Plamondon, Dolph Tewes, Forrest Barnes, Michael and Erica Franke, and membership, originally limited to 50, has had to be extended to approximately 75 because of the overwhelming response of theatrically-minded residents of the Peninsula.

Theatre-in-the-Round is becoming more and more popular since its rebirth in Dallas, Texas, where Margo Jones, Broadway stage director, founded, built, and directed her Theatre 51 in arena-style productions. Originally Greek, the concept of placing the audience on three sides, even four, has become practically a must for little theatres today.

KIWANIS COSTUME BALL SET FOR SEPTEMBER 22

The Carmel Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Costume Ball Saturday, Sept. 22, at 9 p.m., at the Mission Ranch. Tom Tousey is chairman of the ball, the proceeds of which will provide funds for the Hallowe'en party held each year at Sunset School for all children on the Peninsula.

A large number of "unusual" costumes are expected to compete for the prizes, according to Tousey. He recalled that last year the award went to the "Hottentots," wearing a pair of old straw hats and a couple of soup bones.

Stoney's Stompin' Five will provide music for the event. Tickets for the Ball can be obtained from most Carmel merchants and from Abinante's Music Store and Wurzmann's in Monterey.

Committee members are as follows: Publicity, Howell Armor, Dick Sumner, John Chitwood, and Jim Burkholder. Ticket sales, Carl Patnude, Frank Putnam, Pete Johnston, Bob Little, and Harold Nielsen. Decarations, Bill Aldous, Jack Canoles, Jack Giles, Howard Timbers.

REGISTRATION REMAINS HIGH AT MPC

Enrollment this year at the Monterey Peninsula College will be as high, and possibly higher, than enrollment last year," Harold K. Parker, Dean of Students at the Monterey Peninsula College stated this week. "This is particularly significant," Parker stated, "since enrollment is expected to decline in practically all junior colleges throughout the nation."

COLLEGE PRESS BOX REMODELLED

"Now that the lights are installed in the new stadium and the playing of all college games there is assured, the press box is going to get a remodelling," MPC President Calvin C. Flint said this week. "We expect to have it ready for the first home game with Everett (Washington) Junior College on September 22."

"Gifted, gorgeous, and going places"--that's Carol May Starr, rising young harpist and folk singer on the West Coast musical scene. Secretary by day, concert artist by night, this lovely brunette balladier successfully combines two seemingly opposite roles.

Formerly of Hollywood, and now residing in Carmel, Carol May Starr has appeared in numerous recitals, on the concert stage, television, and in radio. She was one of six girls chosen from over 200, to be awarded a $500 acting scholarship at Hollywood's Geller Theatre Workshop.

Carmelites will remember Carol May for her excellent pantomine performance of the harp player in the recent Greek play at the Forest Theatre. Acclaimed as "a Master Harp Soloist" by a prominent Los Angeles daily paper, Carol May Starr plays any type harp by ear or by note. Unlike most harpists, she prefers solo work to orchestral spots; light classics, popular songs, and even "swing" to the average "long-haired" harp music.

Since childhood, Carol May has collected, arranged, and sung the ballads of many lands. Her repertoire now includes some 500 numbers, which she sings in English, French, Italian, Spanish and Russian. When she is not working, Carol relaxes by composing original music--harp solos and folk songs.

COCKER SPANIEL CLUB will hold its Second SANCTIONED match Sunday Afternoon, Sept. 30, at the SWALWELL home on Castro Rd., overlooking the Del Monte Golf Course. They are putting the accent on PUPPY showings and there will be a $25 prize for the best puppy and a $10 prize for the best of the opposite sex. That's a cute idea -- might try that in the Miss and Mrs. America contests. Anyhow, if you are interested in the Cocker show you can get entry blanks at the local pet shops or the WINDRIDGE-DEL MONTE KENNELS..... They are having MOVIES at the Del Monte LODGE in Pebble Beach on Thursday nights-----While at the Lodge anytime don't fail to have RUTH DIPPEL come over to your table for she can tell you things. She is a -- or is it an -- ASTRO-NUMEROLOGIST VIBRATORY ANALYST..... JACK DOUGHERTY has opened another unit in his MASTER PLAN of the CASA MUNRAS in Monterey. In the last two years JACK and TILLIE DOUGHERTY have completely renovated their popular hotel and cottages to the tune of over $350,000 and now have 85 rooms .....The MUSICAL ARTS CLUB gets off to a new season with a concert Sept. 22 in the Carmel High Auditorium. Featured will be Fredrick Gamble of Tacoma, Tenor, and EDWARD KUSTER of Carmel, Cello. Although TED KUSTER is known to most of us for his theatrical work, he appeared with the First Symphonic Orchestra of Los Angeles at the AGE OF 12. He is the SOLE survivor of that group. For many years TED played with professional String Quartets and Piano Quintets but kept his amateur standing until he became a member of the Los Angeles Symphony in 1915. ANGIE MACHADO will be his accompanist. Anyone wishing to become a member of the MUSICAL Arts Club should contact EBEN WHITTLESEY at 7-3857.....HOW CAN YOU MISS? and if you missed it you missed a nice little show by that name, put on by the STRAW HAT THEATRE at the P.G. It was sponsored by the AMERICAN WOMENS VOLUNTARY SERVICE, familiarly and popularly known as the A.W.V.S., in the interest of their latest worthwhile activity, the VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION. A full house saw this original musical revue. Best performances were put on by Elizabeth Berryhill who wrote the lyrics and sketches and Gordon Connell who produced the music. Another outstanding performer was Anne Soule. Mrs. RICHARD L. BOWER is the head of the local AWVS unit, and the chairman of the committee putting on the show was Mrs. ROY PAGE. IMPRESSIVE was the theatre program which was full of Carmel Advertising, including one from the SPECTATOR (we take our own medicine sometimes). Credit for selling that ad goes to a CHARMING lady, Mrs. EDWARD P. McMURTRY.....

A Real Estate Broker is not necessarily a REALTOR as you will see if you read an adv. in this week's SPECTATOR. Real Estate is a BIG BUSINESS in Carmel and the Local BOARD of REALTORS have finally got off their duff as advocated for several years by the SPECTATOR and they are going to tell you about it, thanks to a committee appointed by president ENOS FOURATT, consisting of LOUIS CONLAN, EARL MATTHIESSEN and WILLIAM EKLUND.....And speaking of EDUCATION, there must be lots of people around who could get a LOT OUT OF the ADULT EDUCATION COURSES offered locally. They are starting now under the direction of CHUCK DAWSON. It's really NEVER too late to LEARN..... .....DOUBLING IN BRASS, the new show at the California FIRST THEATRE opened last night and will play thru Sunday -- and every Friday, Saturday and Sunday until further notice. It has a good cast and should attract. Produced by DENNY-WATROUS---Directed by RHEA DIVELEY.....Incidentally, HEAR TELL the Director RHEA is planning a WORLD TRIP, possibly on a Dutch Freighter. How Lucky can you get? .....ART PAGE was the only Carmel entrant in the Big BICYCLE RACE last Sunday around the Peninsula. He finished too but had a tough time while losing SIX POUNDS... .....At the Current Exhibit at the Carmel Art Association see ARTHUR HILL GILBERT'S "Spreading Oaks" and JANE BUFFINGTON'S "Old Timer." She used "POP" SMITH as model.....A Couple of PAIRS -- BOB CAMPBELL & MRS. NEWSOME -----STARR ELLIS and AL RAILTON.....and This WEEK'S nomination for a LOVELY LADY -- MRS. HUGH DORMODY..... 'BERLIN LISTENING POST' SUBJECT OF MARTIN FLAVIN TALK SEPT. 18

Having spent ten months in Europe and Asia skirting the Iron Curtain and in cases venturing behind it, noted playwright, novelist and Pulitzer Prize Winner of the Monterey Peninsula, Martin Flavin, will analyze his experiences in a talk, "Berlin Listening Post," on Tuesday evening, Sept. 18, at Sunset School Auditorium.

Proceeds from the talk (the price is 50¢ general admission and 25¢ for students) will go into an International Scholarship Fund at Monterey Peninsula College. This fund pays tuition for foreign students to MPC. The event is sponsored by the Carmel Rotary Club, World Affairs Council, Associated Students of Carmel High School, and the Associated Students of MPC.

Mr. Flavin's journalistic reputation for acute perception and sound judgment in addition to his outstanding writing ability, make his impressions of the Iron Curtain fringe areas of unusual interest. Starting at Japan, Formosa, and Korea, he and Mrs. Flavin followed the curtain's edge through Southeast Asia, India, Iran, Syria, on to Rome and Paris and finally Germany.

In Eastern Germany he was able to go behind the Iron Curtain, view first hand its life and make his comparisons. Not an observer who jumps to conclusions, his feelings of potential hope for the future of this sector will be brought out in his talk.

The November and December issues of Harpers Magazine will also carry an article of the same title and content, based on his travels. An article on India appeared in a recent issue of Harpers.

Mr. Flavin's unusual career began as a successful businessman who switched to become one of the country's outstanding playwrights and novelists. His successful plays include "Criminal Code," "Crossroads," "Spindrift;" among his novels are "Mr. Littlejohn," "Journey in the Dark" ($10,000 Harper Prize, Pulitzer Prize Award).

The International Scholarship Fund is a representative of the Ford Foundation which among its other interests arranges for the exchange of United States and foreign students. It is a project which has received the wide interest and attention of many prominent Peninsula people including Mr. Flavin.

Mrs. John H. Gratiot is chairman of the scholarship fund for the MPC and reports that the awards will go this year to a French girl and a Swedish boy, currently en route here.

MANY UNUSUAL COSTUMES are expected again this year to grace the annual Kiwanis Club Costume Ball to be held Saturday night, Sept. 22, at the Mission Ranch. Above, Mr. & Mrs. Pete Johnston displaying their talents at last year's Ball.
